

ESSEX COMTÉ FLEUR MARCEL PETITE, FORT ST. ANTOINE

Made in Eastern France in the cooperative dairies of the Jura mountains. Aged in the renowned caves of Marcel Petite's Granges Narboz. The same level of cave as in the Fort St. Antoine; it is a temple of cheese, housing over a hundred thousand wheels. We're not the only importer sourcing cheese from this location. But no other importer calibrates their profile throughout the year to deliver cheeses that are as consistent and balanced.

VISUAL CHARACTERISTICS	Flat, millstone shape; 75–85 lbs; 25-30 inches in diameter.
CATEGORY OF CHEESE	Hard, pressed, cooked, cow's milk cheese.
SCALE OF PRODUCTION	Made in cooperative cheese dairies called "fruitières;" artisanal.
MILK TYPE	Raw cow's milk made from the Montbéliarde breed.
CHEESEMAKING DETAILS AND PROCEDURE	The manufacture of Comté remains the textbook reference for pressed, cooked-curd cheeses in France. After the curd mass is cut to hazelnut size, the curds are heated—cooked—in their own whey at 122F for 30 minutes. The curds are drained and dropped into large molds and pressed for 6 hours. The pliable "green" cheese is salted within 36 hours of production, then again every 48 hours for the next 3 weeks. After this pre-affinage phase, the young Comté is moved to the Granges Narboz where it is matured under the scrupulous care of the head affineur, the chef de cave Michel Tyrode, and his team.
AFFINAGE AND CHEESE MATURING NOTES	Michel's team select wheels that are an average of 8 months old using the road-tested approach of taste, record, repeat, looking not just for flavor, but flavor that can last, as the wheel travels across the ocean.
APPEARANCE	Paste that ranges from ivory to yellow depending on the season.
SMELL AND AROMA	Fresh cream, cut grass. Butter, apple, cellar.
FLAVOR	Delicate, bright, long lasting. Always creamy and buttery with notes of pasture grasses and juicy fruit.
SEASONAL AVAILABILITY	Available all year. Predominately made from May to October when the cows are in pasture.
WINE SUGGESTIONS	A wide variety of wines go well with Comté. The local "vin jaune" from the Jura makes for one of the most successful (and memorable) cheese and wine marriages. Chardonnays from California. Rhone valley reds such as Chateauneuf du Pape.
