

FETA VORAS

Mount Voras is one of Greece's highest peaks. It is a wild place, covered in flowers and herbs. Towering above the far northern region of Florina its slopes and foothills are the grazing grounds for sheep whose milk is made into Feta Voras.

Creamy and crumbly with sweet flavors of apple and citrus. This is the kind of feta you're going to want to eat every day.

Pasteurized milk. Small scale family cheese makers.
Recognized PDO status as traditional feta.
